International travel in the 21st century requires you to quickly and accurately determine what documents are needed to enter another country. You should also be aware of the latest security reports and health information for each country being visited. Are there corporate documents being sent to another country? You need to know what seals are required for them to be legally binding in that country.

Perry International has been securing visas, passports and legalizations since 1946. With our offices in Chicago, Denver and Washington D.C., and a network of services in Atlanta, Houston, Miami, Los Angeles, New York, San Francisco and Ottawa, we can expedite your document requests from any location.

Phone or email your inquiries to us or visit our web site at www.perryvisa.com to get detailed requirements for each individual trip. Both our staff and our web site can guide you through all of the steps. When your documents are ready, send them to us to be proofed then presented to the proper offices by our couriers.

Visas and legalizations are secured as rapidly as the policies of foreign consulates permit. Passports can be expedited to meet documented departure dates. Work is proofed again when finished to be sure that they are in traveling order. When completed, the documents are returned to you by Federal Express priority service with our invoice and an e-mail with the tracking information is sent. Airport deliveries and special courier services are also available.

We can also assist with translations, international driving permits, US embassy registration, visa support documents, and photos.

Our web site contains the latest travel advisories, security information, odd entry regulations and health information for every country. By including this information by country, you only get information relevant to your destinations.

We have an e-mail and an RSS update service to notify you of any changes.

We provide timely service to ensure that you receive your documents in time for your international trip.

We answer your phone calls and e-mails, a direct line of communication that is often lacking with the passport offices and foreign embassies and consulates.

We provide accurate information in a field in which requirements change frequently.

We help you avoid the hours that can be spent searching the Internet or making phone calls to receive the most recent application forms or instructions.

We are able to speak directly with the consulate or passport office staff, if any problems arise with the application process, and determine how to solve the problem.
